Suffolk, Va., Sept. 20.—The Senatorial situation in this district may soon receive additional impetus by the introduction of another factor whose influence with or against the other candidates would be problematical. Friends are asking Captain C. H. Causey, Jr., to become an independent candidate for the Senate, and should he decide to announce himself he would get a good sized vote. Many persons think Captain Causey would have a chance to win in view of the spilt in Democratic ranks. That would depend upon his ability to get out the Republican vote. Twenty years ago Judge R. H. Rawles carried the district by nearly 3,000 as a Readijuster candidate. Captain Causey, Sr., was the last anti-Democratic Senator from the district. That was in 1881.

Captain Causey wous seen to-night and asked about his reported candidacy. He said he had been asked to run, but did not say positively whether he would or not.

BRIEF MENTION.

Mrs. S. Bland, daughter of Mrs.

Baldwin, and Bland, the little son of Rev. C. I. Stengle, have returned from Holly Springs, where they spent two months for the benefit of the health of the latter. Bland is very much improved and his prospects for final recovery are good. His father, on Bland's return, presented him with a very handsome carriage.

Mrs. D. A. Graves wishes to state that owing to her having previously arranged to teach a primary school for girls of her own, she is not in a position to accept the appointment as substitute teacher in the district school.
